Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 1-32 are allowed.

4. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Examiner agrees with Applicants that Jourdan'673 employs an incremental confidence value operable for comparison with the predetermined confidence threshold, rather than a reference to a memory location common to a plurality of page table entries.

Further, Jourdan'673, the closest reference, and the other prior art do not teach or fairly suggest: setting a value of a speculation indicator based on the multiaccess memory condition to indicate that speculative execution of instructions by at least one of the first and the second processors is not allowed in the computerized device for instructions that reference the memory location (in claim 1; claims 15 and 28-30 each recite the corresponding limitations) in combination with all of the other limitations in the respective independent claims (claims 1, 15 and 28-30), and the combination is not obvious; and

Furthermore, Jourdan'673, the closest reference, and the other prior art do not teach or fairly suggest: the step of not allowing speculative execution of instructions in the computerized device further comprising deactivating at least one speculative execution correction mechanism in the computerized device (in claim 10, and claim 24 recite the corresponding limitations) in combination with all of the other limitations in the respective independent claims (claims 10 and 24), and the combination is not obvious.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
